

of the new society. I presume, however, the subject of agencies cannot have escaped the attention of the gentlemen at New York. Mr. Garrison, who I should think, might be employed by the society in some active capacity to great advantage.

You will notice the name of Mr. Barbadoes in the list. If the society chooses to have any colored men among its officers, no one in this place is more suitable than he. Mr. Tappan, however, if you should send the name ought to be informed of his color.

Mr. Bacon handed me the "First Report of the Executive Committee of the American Baptist Home Mission Society" saying that it contained a good form of organization for a large society. Mr. Tappan can easily get this report at the office of the Society in Clinton Hall, if he wishes to see it. The form in which the society is to be organized is certainly important.

Mr. Bacon left with me your list of names.
I am rejoiced to find it so numerous and respectable.
I think the publication of your work must produce

Mr. Duval's letter to 1833.

Domesticating for the Society

Extract from Mr Sewall's Letter.
Boston Nov. 20, 1833

88

Dear Sir,

At a meeting of the Board of Managers of the A. C. Anti-Slavery Society, Mr. Lewis Tappan's letter to you was laid before the meeting, and Mr. Garrison Mr. Barbadoes and myself were appointed a committee to consider the subject. The Committee met and agreed upon a list of names which occurred to us as suitable for officers of the society in New England. This list I enclose. Not knowing what was to be the form of organization of the new society we could not tell what number of names would be wanted. I have marked against the names the offices which occurred to ~~me~~ Barbadoes and myself as most suitable for them. (Mr. Garrison's other business prevented him from attending the meeting of the Committee) In addition to the offices suggested in the list it may be worth while to mention to Mr. Tappan that many gentlemen here think Mr. Chay and Mr. Jocelyn admirably adapted to be agents